IN THE MEDIA

AD

...feel as if they're spending a few nights in their second home, which explains the warm and utterly cozy interiors. Each guest room is outfitted with wide-plank hardwood floors, a perfect backdrop for the abundance of white furniture accented in natural wood...

VOGUE

As part of my due diligence, one night I asked several guests what they thought of the property. "It's my favorite place I've ever stayed out here," one said, summing up the general consensus.

...it was like a stay at an upscale boutique hotel with excellent service and an ambiance of being at a treasured friend's home who goes out of her way to be hospitable and has fantastic taste.

AVENUE

Once you slip down the gravel driveway, you are immersed into a lush, private paradise. The feel is completely residential — as if a friend with impeccable taste lent you their Hamptons hideaway for a few days (or weeks — you won't want to ever check out). It's all best described as quiet luxury. It's like Aman opened in the Hamptons.

Everything felt personal—as if an old friend was waiting for us to arrive. I stayed impressed throughout the weekend, from the anything-you-need service and comfortable suites to the prime location and proximity to local beaches and attractions...

Now this is what people with country houses do on the weekends! It's set on two acres and you can play games on the lawn or simply read a book. The beach is a mile away too, but you might be too caught up in afternoon tea to pull on your suit.
